

Winter is coming... Are you ready?

If you receive or ship water-based products it's time to make plans for the season ahead. A. Duie Pyle's Protect from Freezing service begins November 2nd and will continue through mid-April, operating 24-hours a day, seven days a week, without interruption.

Providing predictable protection from freezing temperatures in the Northeast means providing a complete protection package for products that travel under potentially extreme conditions. In addition to our CargoQuilt thermal blankets, our "Protect from Freeze" service consists of heated line haul trailers, heated terminals, special dock training and temperature-sensitive load planning software to add more protection to every shipment. All of this ensures that our customers can ship and/or receive water-based commodities regardless of the day of the week or temperature. Last winter, we completed a challenging season with a 99.9% exception-free record on almost 43,000 water-based shipments.

If you haven't already made plans for the upcoming winter, you can count on A. Duie Pyle to provide the most dependable winter protection in the Northeast. Please contact our customer service representatives at 1-800-523-5020 to schedule your next shipment or to receive additional information about our Freeze Protection service.
